Government; Several Are Missing

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Communication Service)

NEW YORK, N. Y., July 11.—The American steamer Kusan, which has been sunk in the war zone, few details have reached here. She was carrying flour and steel for the French government. The Kusan sailed from here on June 28, Capt. Forestry is master.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 11.—In the sinking of the Kusan, the engineer, J. Murphy, an American; A. P. Kua of Honolulu; C. Hanan of Singapore, and F. Aguirre, an Englishman, were lost. The rest were saved.

The Kusan is an American Hawaiian freighter, and according to General Agent C. P. Morse of the local agency this afternoon, has been in the war zone, a transatlantic service, for some time. She sailed at Honolulu last about a year and a half or more ago. The local office does not know how many Honolulu residents are in the crew.

The only appears in the directory in the names of James Kua of Hana, Maui, and Solomon Kua of Lahaina, Maui. The drowned sailor may be a Maui boy.

GIRL TRIES TO END LIFE
WITH POISON13-Year-Old Russian Child
Swallows Iodine, But Recovering
Consciousness Refuses to Explain Attempt at Self Destruction

Tiring of life, comely 13-year old Helen Burlant, a Russian girl, attempted to commit suicide at noon today by taking iodine. Her home is in one of the small cottages opposite the public library near the corner of King and Punchbowl streets.

The young girl's life was probably saved by the prompt call for the ambulance and the application of a stomach pump for fifteen minutes by Dr. Ayer at the emergency hospital. When the girl recovered consciousness she was in a stubborn mood and refused to tell why she made the attempt on her life, although she volunteered the information as to her nationality and age. She is expected to be sufficiently recovered this afternoon to return to her home.

CARNIVAL TO BE HELD; EXTENT TO HINGE ON WAR

Now that all of the civic organizations in Honolulu have taken the stand that the Mid-Pacific Carnival should be held next February, the Carnival committee is prepared to go ahead with plans for the gala event. To what extent the Carnival will be carried out, however, has not been decided, according to George Angus, president, because of the uncertainty of the future, but he says the program will be as large as conditions warrant. No start has been made yet as the directors have decided to wait a month as they believe by that time something definite as to the calling out the National Guard and the drafting of troops will be known.

"We want to give as large a Carnival as possible," Angus said, "but if several thousand men are called away from here it will materially alter our plans. The army department has advised us to wait for a few weeks and so no action will be taken until August toward preparing for the Carnival."

PLAN RALLY TO AROUSE INTEREST IN REGISTRATION

Members of the various civic organizations of Honolulu will hold a grand rally and luncheon at the Alexander Young Hotel roof garden two or three days prior to Registration Day. Raymond C. Brown, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, in a talk before the members of the Ad Club today, asked that the Ad Club luncheon for next week be postponed, and this club voted to do so as to join with the other civic organizations.

Brown said today that the purpose of the rally was to get the employers, fathers and others interested to come to the meeting to work out some definite program, and use the united efforts of the civic organizations in making the registration in Hawaii a success. He said that while the mainland has raised a big hurrah before Registration Day, Hawaii had not taken it so seriously and believed that the united efforts of the civic bodies would tend to create interest in registration. Manager Harry Stinson of the Alexander Young Hotel has arranged to furnish a 50-cent luncheon which will be held on Friday, July 27.

Guava Jelly To Be Sent To France; Ad
Club Buys Cartons

Members of the Honolulu Ad Club voted to purchase 10,000 cartons for use as containers for guava jelly to be sent to the soldiers in France. This action was taken at the meeting of the club at the Alexander Young hotel today at noon.

John Soper, chairman of the committee, reported that guava jelly could be placed in cartons containing 2 ounces of jelly, which was the amount favored by Col. R. B. Ebert. He said that these cartons could be purchased in 10,000 lots for approximately $120. Soper showed samples of the cartons packed with the guava jelly, and these cartons met the approval of those present.

The Ad Club will furnish the money for the purchase of these cartons, and it is expected that a campaign will be inaugurated to secure the jelly as soon as the cartons arrive. A number of Honolulu ladies have already promised to assist in the work of filling the cartons.

BERNSTROFF MAY TAKE FOREIGN OFFICE; WAR POLICY DOUBTFUL

Kaiser's Decision Drops Civil Officers But Military and Naval Heads Will Probably Remain, Washington Thinks—Austria Inclined to Peace

(Associated Press by Wireless) LONDON, England, July 11.—The resignation of Dr. Alfred Zimmermann, secretary for foreign affairs, and Dr. Karl Helfferich, of the home office and representative of the chancellor, has been decided upon by the kaiser.

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, July 11.—Count von Bernstorff, former ambassador to the United States, is mentioned to succeed Dr. Zimmermann. The retirement of Zimmermann and of Helfferich will be gazetted on Tuesday.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 11.—The German political crisis is regarded here as transitory, and the dismissal of the ministers mentioned is thought to be a surface movement which will leave untouched the movements of the general staff. It is pointed out here that the foreign office has served during the war only as a means of extricating the military department from trouble. The civil branch, it is maintained, does not influence the policy of the military officials, the ministers figuring merely as puppets.

Nevertheless, the signs of unrest in the Teuton countries are plain, especially in Austria, which inclines to peace.

BERLIN, Germany, July 11.—Precipitated by the drastic attack on the government, the situation in the reichstag is now admitted to be tense.

The chief interest by parliamentarians as well as by the people is in what action will be recommended by the main Reichstag committee, which for more than a day has been engaged in confidential discussions.

(Associated Press by Cable) LONDON, England, July 11.—A German wireless message says that the main reichstag committee has recognized that the operations and success of the submarines have surpassed expectations.

An Amsterdam despatch says that the kaiser late yesterday held a conference with the crown council, the conference being held in absolute secrecy.

The German public became uneasy when news of the conference became known, as the council meets only in times of crisis.

BERNE, Switzerland, July 11.—Information reaching Switzerland from authentic sources is that Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg told the main Reichstag committee that his "duty is to remain as chancellor for the protection of the fatherland."

From this utterance it is believed certain that the chancellor will resist any movements to unseat him and will adhere firmly to his policies and plans.

Korniloff's Men Storm Through
Galicia Winning Russ Victory

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Wireless) PETROGRAD, Russia, July 11.—Gen. Korniloff, commanding the Russian troops now sweeping victoriously through Galicia upon the stronghold of Lemberg, has become almost overnight the national hero of the Russian people.

News came today that the Russians have taken an additional 2,000 prisoners and 30 guns in capturing Halicz, one of the keys to Lemberg. They advanced on the left bank of the Lomnica river and on the Bogoradchan front and the Slav troops are today reported to have reached the Posiecz-Lesivka-Kosmacz line.

There has been fighting since Sunday in the direction of Dolina, where 10,000 of the enemy and 80 guns have been captured. Korniloff, whose achievements have suddenly thrust him into national fame, was born in a log cabin, the child of needy Cossack parents. By his own exertions and studies he won a place in the Siberian cadets and advanced rapidly. As a colonel he won fame in handling troops when he covered the retreat of the shattered remnants of Kurapatkin's army after the battle of Mukden, in the Russo-Japanese war. During the present war he was once captured by the Austrians, but escaped.

Fighting On West So Fierce Few
Prisoners Taken By Either Side

(Associated Press by Cable) BERLIN, Germany, July 11.—Official reports yesterday and early today say that the artillery fighting on the west front has grown fiercer, particularly on the Ypres sector, around Wytschaete.

AT THE FRENCH FRONT, July 11.—Late yesterday the Germans launched one of their greatest attacks they have ever made on the western front, in an endeavor to smash the French line at Chemin des Dames. Their attack carried over the barbed wire entanglements of "No Man's Land," and they succeeded in capturing some mortars. The fighting was of the fiercest description. Following the bombardment came the charges and hand grenades were freely used. Then came hand-to-hand fighting with bayonets, French and Germans struggling in mud waist-deep.

Only six Frenchmen were captured and these later attacked and overpowered their guards and escaped.

Few prisoners were made by the French, owing to the desperate fighting on both sides, the percentage of killing being very high. Paris, France, July 11.—The Germans were repulsed today on the Woerth front.

(Associated Press by U. S. Naval Wireless) near the sea. There was a 24-hour bombardment which leveled the defenses of the dunes, directly isolated by destruction of the bridges across the Yser.
